

CALL OF THE
2022
UNITED STATES
VIRGIN ISLANDS
REPUBLICAN
TERRITORIAL CAUCUS

FEBRUARY 18, 2022

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF THE UNITED STATES VIRGIN ISLANDS:

In accordance with The Rules of the 2022 U.S. Virgin Islands Republican Territorial Caucus adopted by the U.S. Virgin Islands Republican State Committee on January 22, 2022, and the requirements set forth by the Republican National Committee (RNC) at the RNC 2020 Summer Meeting, the RNC Counsel's Office hereby directs that a caucus be convened from 8:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Atlantic Time on Tuesday, March 29, 2022 for the purpose of electing candidates for state party chairman, national committeeman, national committeewoman, and the U.S. Virgin Islands Republican State Committee. Said caucus will be governed by The Rules of the 2022 U.S. Virgin Islands Republican Territorial Caucus and will be overseen by the RNC Counsel's Office. There will be one caucus site in St. Croix, one in St. Thomas, and one in St. John. Residents of the U.S. Virgin Islands, who are registered with the Board of Elections of the U.S. Virgin Islands as Republican voters as of February 28, 2022, are invited under this call to participate in the election of the aforementioned leaders of the Republican Party of the U.S. Virgin Islands. Persons interested in running for election to any office to be elected at the caucus must return a candidate filing form to the RNC Counsel's Office at counsel@gop.com by 5:00 Atlantic Time on March 22, 2022 in order to appear on the ballot. Candidate filing forms and additional information about the caucus, including caucus site locations, will be provided at www.vicaucus.gop.
